TRANS-GLOBAL

DANCE PARTY!

[BURDEL DALI PRESENTS] is a crazed celebration of world music, cross-cultural dance floor throw-downs, international dress codes, and trans-global festivity.

Spawned from the minds of globalized artists and music-lovers DJ Mishto (Bucharest, Romania) & Raphlex (Arequipa, Peru), the party began as a Thursday night free-for-all at Mehanata Bulgarian Bar in downtown NYC.

They became maestros of Balkan anthems, Roma lamentations, and a formidable plethora of festive soundtracks from across the universe. Mishka became the party's host in Summer 2009 and the three have taken their circus from the wooden walls of the Bulgarian bar to the basements of Bushwick, grassy farms of Cazenovia, abandoned airports, museum lounges, underground bike shop parties, and everywhere in between.

They represent the first sparkling, melodic hints of what is becoming the most exciting scene to hit New York/Global nightlife in years.

... PARTEEEEEEEEEEE!

TRANS-GLOBAL

DANCE PARTY!

Bands Featured at [Burdel Dali Presents] have included the infamous Mames Babegenush (Denmark), Yuri Yunakov & The Grand Masters of Gypsy Music (Bulgaria), Kreptatka Bar Band, The March Fourth Marching Band, Escarioka, Karikatura, Outernational, Avram Pengas, and many more.

The after party features epic world-wide soundtracks that mix the anthems of fallen nations with post-modern beats and jacked up dance tracks, all adequately saturated with regional audacity and vibrations of artistic, musical, and emotional revolution.

Patrons of the Burdel dance to Bulgarian chalga, Russian folk songs, klezmer wedding jams, Hungarian lullabies, and Punjabi bhangra beats in the span of a few hours. This caravan of culture and festivity is branching out far and wide for all who are willing to listen.

For now you can find them every Thursday night at Mehanata Bulgarian Bar:
13 Ludlow in the LES, NYC
